

The Coconino Sun.F. S. BREEN,
EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

Entered in the Postoffice at Flagstaff as second class matter.

Issued every Friday. Subscription price two dollars a year, in advance. Every paper is stopped at the expiration of the time paid for.

The Elks have a splendid entertainment in view for the people during the next month.

The new Arizona railroad commissioners say they are ready for complaints. They'll get 'em.

Ex Secretary of the Interior E. A. Hitchcock died at his home in St. Louis Friday aged 74 years.

The new city of Courtland has had a wedding, a suicide and a killing. Pretty fair start for a town so young.

Madam Modjeska, the sweet singer of Poland, died at her home in Los Angeles, on April 8th aged sixty-five years.

Judging from the tenor of the Phoenix Democrat's editorials, Bro. Bell is getting ready to secede when the territory goes republican again.

Getting power from the sun is a new idea. Getting power from the sun has been tried by the old man until he has practically given it up.

The Bisbee Review says a man named Chas. Kelley "uttered" a bad check for $27 on a local bank. Suppose Chas. is now muttering in jail for his false utter.

The merchant who soaks you the limit on all goods purchased of him, is the first one to kick on prices he pays anyone else. This is not very strange, it merely goes to show more conclusively the porcine propensities of the individual.

Ex-President Cyprien Castro of Venezuela is having a hard time getting back to his country. He promises when he lands there to re-Castro the Gomez country. There is a general feeling that he may be able to do it if he lands.

While you are thinking over other things wouldn't it be well to start to commence thinking out a plan for a real large life-sized celebration for next 4th of July. It is always well to begin early and it is expected that Flagstaff will eclipse all former efforts along celebration lines this year.

Santa Fe, New Mexico, will be "dry" after December 31, 1909. An ordinance recently passed by the city council doubles the license in the meantime. Kentucky, the home of bourbon has 95 dry counties out of 115. There is a great wave of drought laws going over the country these days.

Regardless of the jubilant expression of our democratic exchanges, over what they term the "republican scrap for political pie," they will feel indignant and deeply grieved in two years from now when the republican party presents a solid front at the first state election and smites them hip and thigh.

All the rot and twaddle about the "power of the speaker" is exceedingly tiresome, especially to a person somewhat initiated in the ways of lawmaking bodies. Without established rules made by the majority, the majority would either be ruled by the minority or the entire body become a howling mob. The speaker is always careful to have the majority with him, for without it his power is gone.

The Winslow Mail says there is a good prospect of a cement factory at that place in the near future.

Mallory Cravenette Hats

If it's a
Mallory
It's all right

Mallory Cravenette Hats are "all right" because they look well when you buy them and because they stay that way.

You'll be glad it's a "Mallory Cravenette" when the rainy season comes, because these hats are insured against rain — and sun too.

The rain cannot soak through them and they will not spot or look shabby. You always get perfection and style when you buy a Mallory.
